MATERIALS OF THE HIGHEST QUALITY FOR A TIMELESS DESIGN

Duravit consistently favours premium materials for product manufacture. Each material is carefully selected using outstanding expertise. Raw materials must meet the highest quality standards to ensure excellent product quality and customer satisfaction.

DuraCeram®

More than ceramics

Ceramic is a natural material that has existed for thousands of years. The material has more than proven itself in use: The hygienically smooth surface glaze is extremely robust, easy to clean, abrasion and scratch-resistant. Bathroom ceramics are also skin-friendly, heat-resistant and light-fast. For designs with exact dimensional accuracy or reduced wall thicknesses, the conventional material reaches its limits. Conventional bathroom ceramics have a wall thickness of 12 to 14 mm, which is necessary to the required strength after firing. DuraCeram® allows for thin wall thicknesses and also impresses with dimensional accuracy, high strength and an elegant finish. This results in exceptional design without compromising on quality, robustness and ease of care. Another advantage of DuraCeram® is its sustainability. Savings in raw materials, a reduction in energy requirements and CO2 emissions in the production process, reduces the weight of the end products.

DuroCast®

A material that combines design and functionality

The solid surface materials DuroCast® Plus, UltraResist and Smooth are mainly composed of natural minerals and resin as a binding agent. DuroCast® Nature, consists polyurethane mixed with marble powder and, like DuroCast® Smooth, has a colored gelcoat surface. With DuroCast® Plus on the other hand, the entire substrate material is enriched with color pigments and is therefore completely colored. The raw materials are mixed automatically and prepared for the moulding process. This results in a homogeneous casting compound that is filled into moulds.

The moulding process is followed by two drying stages: In the first stage, the liquid casting compound hardens in the mould in a heating chamber. In the second stage, the product is demoulded and stretched on a separate spiral bearing in the oven at temperatures of up to 80 °C. During this phase final hardening of the material is achieved. Once they have cooled down, the finished products are given the final polish in the polishing booth. Due to the low drying temperature the material saves CO<sub>2</sub> during production, in contrast to energy-intensive ceramic prod.

WITH PASSION AND ATTENTION TO DETAIL

Our ceramics production combines traditional craftsmanship with creative expertise. Continuously optimised processes are created through the combination of traditional techniques, skills and a special attention to detail. Many of our products are still handcrafted today, which emphasises their uniqueness and quality.

HANDMADE FROM OUR MANUFACTORY

For decades, Duravit has stood for inimitable craftsmanship and expertise in the sanitary industry. To this day our products are meticulously crafted from the highest quality materials. Bathroom furniture and other selected products are still finished by hand. They turn bathrooms into individual rooms full of character, which fulfill even the highest standards of comfort and design.

Duravit's origins lie in our production site in Hornberg, where the centuries-old craft of ceramic production is perfected. Not only traditional products are created here, but also all our innovative new product developments.

At the heart of our ceramic production are passionate employees, who work with dedication and care every day. The expertise passed down through generations is reflected in the unrivalled precision and quality of our products.

Our products undergo a strict quality process. From the ceramic blank, glazing through to the firing process, our products are constantly checked. Through this manual inspection, we guarantee that every piece meets our exacting standards and is unique.

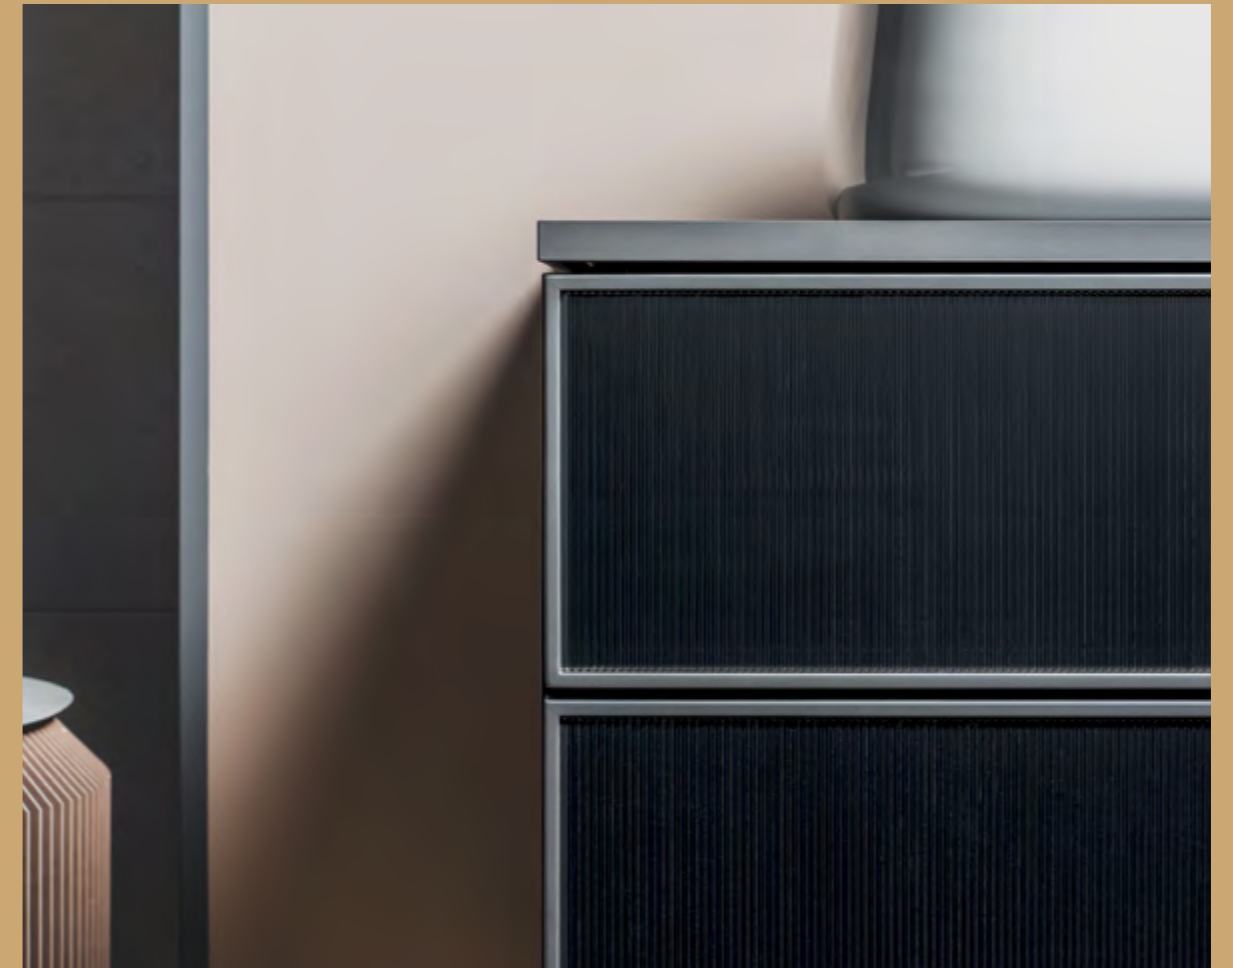

Our furniture factory in Schenkenzell, Germany, uses only high-quality materials and fine solid woods to create exclusive pieces of timeless elegance. The pursuit of perfection and the love of craftsmanship are reflected in every single piece of furniture.

Our furniture is still finished by hand to ensure that every piece meets the highest quality standards. This traditional approach guarantees not only a flawless, but also a unique finish for your customised piece of furniture.

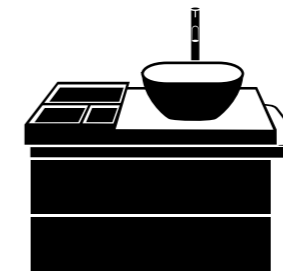

Our Artisan Lines furniture, which is made exclusively at the Black Forest in Germany, are timeless masterpieces. From the first sketch to the final touch, every detail is realised with incomparable dedication.

DESIGN BY
ANTONIO CITTERIO

In architecture, the golden ratio is regarded as a formula for aesthetic harmony. For Antonio Citterio, designer and architect, it became a source of inspiration: his bathroom design for Duravit therefore impresses with perfectly balanced proportions.

The all-round bevel gives the DuroCast® bathtubs a particularly fine look. Matching the washbasin shelves, the wall-mounted version has a storage box, which becomes the connecting element between the organically shaped bathtub and the wall.

HygieneGlaze® Plus is the unique bathroom upgrade and combines exceptional hygiene with effortless, environmentally friendly cleaning. For your well-being and everyday upgrade.

99.99% antibacterial

„I try to give simple answers to reality.
We need the elements at the washbasin to hang up the towels, we need large shelves, we need storage space - and all of this should fit together perfectly.“

Antonio Citterio

Made entirely of ceramic and separated from the wet area, shelves with integrated dividers and fine, precise contours ensure that bathroom accessories are stored neatly. Antonio Citterio designed compact basin sizes to provide generous storage space.

Zencha

DESIGN BY
SEBASTIAN HERKNER

Our daily life is a series of rituals. Performing them with awareness and respect can enhance our lives. That is the Zencha concept: The bathroom as a space for awareness, where the ritual of washing can be experienced more deeply.

The interplay of the wood or glass fronts with the ceramic and the fronts with delicate frames makes the Zencha bathroom furniture a harmonious place for washing. Two wood decors and a glass front with a smooth or a finely grooved surface allows individual design and a combination of materials.

Designer Sebastian Herkner took his inspiration from the Far Eastern tea ceremony. The gently contoured forms of the ceramics and bathtubs are reminiscent of tea bowls. With its balanced shapes, colors and materials, Zencha awakens all the senses and transforms the bathroom into a place that allows you to get away from it all.

„The design focuses on details such as the finely curved finish on the baths, inspired by Asian tea bowls that nestle in the hand.“

Sebastian Herkner

* Necessary for controlling the interior lighting of the vanity unit and semi-tall cabinet with glass front.

„Color also determines how we perceive a product. It’s an emotion, because everyone responds to it differently. Multiple colors create a kind of color resonance, something that ideally creates a harmony. And colors for an interior should never be considered in isolation, but rather in the context of the entire space..“

Christian Werner

COLOR UP
YOUR EVERYDAY

The design language of the objects is as clear and unfussy as the color palette. The minimalist console vanity unit can be combined with a round above-counter basin made from DuroCast® UltraResist or a square washbasin, which guarantees that the washbasin and furniture run exactly in parallel thanks to the c-shaped process developed by Duravit.

The matt DuroCast® and furniture surfaces with an elegant look set accents in the bathroom, but never dominate the room. The warm tones respond calmly to other surfaces such as wood, stone, concrete or coordinated tiles.

Millio

DESIGN BY ANTONIO BULLO

The Millio series, created by designer Antonio Bullo, represents an innovation in the toilet sector: The outer shell made from the solid surface material DuroCast® Smooth enables different structure types in a wide variety of colors. The ceramic base body inside ensures the highest standards of hygiene.

„Millio goes beyond mere function by dissolving the division that currently exists between sanitary ceramic and the bathroom. Millio is completely integrated into the aesthetics of the bathroom.“
